THE LOUGH ERNE SYSTEM

The spacious island-dotted expanses of Upper and Lower Lough Erne delight visitors with a unique blend of unspoilt scenic tranquillity and diverse recreational opportunities.

Erne System - Lough Erne Warden david.wilson@waterwaysireland.org
+44 (0)28 6632 2836

The Erne System is patrolled by Lough Erne Wardens who are responsible for implementing the Lough Erne Navigation Bye-laws.

Shannon-Erne Waterway – Inspector of Navigation charles.lawn@waterwaysireland.org
+353 (0) 90 649 4232

To register craft in excess of 15bhp.

Boat Registration on Erne System and Shannon-Erne Waterway

All craft with an engine capacity in excess of 10bhp on the Erne System and 15bhp on the Shannon-Erne Waterway must be registered with the Waterways Ireland Inspectorate.

Registration is free and you can register by visiting www.waterwaysireland.org or by contacting the Inspectorate to request an application form.

Upon registering, you will be provided with a registration number that must be displayed in a prominent position on your boat. You need to inform Inspectorate immediately of any change in ownership. A system of mutual recognition is in place, so boats registered on the Erne System or the Shannon-Erne Waterway do not need to re-register when moving between these waterways.

Opening Hours of Locks

Portora Lock is the only lock on the system. This lock only comes into operation when lough water levels are low. (normally in the winter months when levels are lowered to prepare for winter rain) When in operation it is controlled by lock-gate staff and is open for navigation daily between the hours of 8.30am – 10.00pm.

Fuel Points

Fuel is available from the following locations: Lisnarick (Aghinver Boat Company), Killadeas (Manor House Marine), Enniskillen (McBride's Shop, Riverview), Bellanaleck, Carrybridge and Knockninny.

Pump-outs

Pump outs are provided at Belleek and Castle Archdale on Lower Lough Erne, at the Round "O" in Enniskillen and at Carrybridge, Galloon Jetty and Knockninny on Upper Lough Erne.

Mooring Time Limits

No vessel or boat should remain moored at or in the vicinity of a public mooring for a continuous period of more than 48 hours. A new period shall begin after an absence from the mooring for four hours or more.

THE SHANNON-ERNE WATERWAY

Re-opened in 1994 after restoration, the Shannon-Erne Waterway is 63 km of river, lake and still-water canal and was formerly known as the Ballinamore and Ballyconnell Canal. Running between Leitrim Village and a point just north of Belturbet, it links the two great waterways on the island, the Erne System and the Shannon Navigation.

Service Blocks

There are 6 fully serviced public marinas and service blocks on the Shannon-Erne Waterway providing moorings, pump outs, toilets, showers, laundry facilities, slipways and amenity areas.

Locks:

There are 16 locks each lock taking about 15 minutes to negotiate.

The locks are operated using a 'Smart Card' which instigates a electro-hydraulic system

Locks are open from 9am -8pm daily during the boating season (April-end Oct)

Rest of year daylight hours only

Due to planned maintenance works between November and March please check with Waterways Ireland prior to departure to ensure that the navigation remains open.

Waterway Patrollers can be contacted for assistance along the waterways and can also sell smart cards. The contact phone numbers are

Public Mooring Time Limits

On the Shannon-Erne Waterway the mooring limit is 5 consecutive days or a total of 7 days in any one month during the period 1 April to 31 October.

Cruising Time Speed

Travelling from Leitrim Village to Belturbet (Erne System), is likely to be 15hrs cruising at a speed of 8km per hour. The speed limit of 5km per hour is only applicable on channel stretches of the Shannon-Erne Waterway.

KINGFISHER CYCLE TRAIL

Website: www.kingfishercycletrail.com www.sustrans.org.uk www.cycleni.com

The Kingfisher Cycle Trail (Route 91) is a circular route with approximately 230 miles (370 kilometres) of mapped and signposted cycle trail, with a number of shorter loops possible. The trail is designed in a figure of 8 shape to allow for both long and short cycling holidays. The two main loops are the Northern Loop of nearly 100 miles (160 km) and the Southern Loop of 135 miles (216 km). These can be cycled as two separate routes or as one continuous figure of eight. A number of shorter loops are also possible. The Kingfisher Trail has been named after the kingfisher, a bird long associated with the lakes, fishing and the tranquillity of the rural setting. The route follows quiet country roads, winding through rural countryside, Lakelands, Atlantic Coast and Mountain Trail, through the border counties of Fermanagh, Leitrim, Cavan, Donegal and Monaghan and is the ideal choice for all levels of Cyclist. Note however that traffic increases through larger towns. The route is fairly flat with some gently undulating hills and is suitable for all abilities, from seasoned cyclists to family groups. Suitable for independent or group travel.

If you are using the ferry crossing on Lough Erne between Derrylin and Newtownbutler (map) phone ahead giving as much notice as possible (at least 48 hours) on 028 6773 8118. Please note this ferry is subject to availability particularly at weekends.

The original brown cycle signs for the Kingfisher Cycle Trail will eventually be replaced by blue cycle trail signs.

Maps: The NN9A Kingfisher Trail Cycle Route Map (originally published 2006) is currently out of print.

NN92 NCN The North West Trail Map covers The Kingfisher Trail northern loop in its entirety. The southern loop is shown between Clones and Dowra only. Therefore, the east to west section in the far south and the sections alongside Lough Allen do not feature here.

Belfast-Ballyshannon Cycle Route Map shows the southern half of the northern loop between Belleek and Enniskillen.

NN9C NCN Ballyshannon-Ballycastle Cycle Route shows the northern half of the northern loop between Enniskillen and Belleek.

For insurance purposes walkers need to be members before participating in a walk.

CUILCAGH MOUNTAIN PARK

028 66348855

Website: www.marblearchcavesgeopark.com

Email: info@marblearchcavesgeopark.com

Cuilcagh Mountain Park takes in 2,500 hectares on the northern slopes of Cuilcagh Mountain in southern Fermanagh and is at the heart of the Marble Arch Caves Global Geopark. Cuilcagh Mountain Park, together with the nearby Marble Arch Caves, was awarded UNESCO European Geopark status in 2001 and Global Geopark status in 2004, in recognition of the area's geological heritage. At 665 metres (2,188 feet) above sea level Cuilcagh Mountain Park is the highest point in Fermanagh and one of the flagship sites in the Marble Arch Caves Global Geopark.

There are a number of way marked walking routes within Cuilcagh Mountain Park, most notably the Cuilcagh Way, which is 33km and stretches from the lowlands around the Cladagh River, past the Marble Arch Caves, to the summit of Cuilcagh Mountain. There are 5 stages of the Cuilcagh Way (Cladagh Glen Walk, Cuilcagh Legnabrocky Trail, Cuilcagh Hiker's Trail, Legacurragh Valley Trail, Florence Court Forest Trail) which are waymarked, linear routes and provide stunning views, geology, wildlife, archaeology and natural history: enough to wet anyone's appetite for adventure.

Cuilcagh Legnabrocky Trail

Distance:	7.4 km / 4.5 miles (one direction)	Time:	6 Hours
Grade:	Difficult	Dogs:	Dogs are not allowed
Terrain:	Gravel track, boardwalks and exposed mountain path

The Cuilcagh Mountain trail is now open to the summit of the mountain from the car park at Legnabrocky about 1 km from the road entrance to Marble Arch Caves (signposted Cuilcagh Mountain Park). A new boardwalk protects the rare blanket bog from erosion caused by walkers in the Cuilcagh Mountain Special Area of Conservation. The boardwalk is 1.6 km in length and is located at the end of a 5.8km limestone gravel track.

The Cuilcagh Legnabrocky Trail is a linear route which will appeal to walkers with some experience walking in the hills. The route is quite isolated and showcases the scenic wilderness of Cuilcagh Mountain. The trail meanders along a quiet farmland track before traversing a wooden boardwalk that consists of a steady climb to the mountain face. Here a stepped boardwalk climbs through steep terrain and boulder fields before reaching the summit plateau. A rough mountain path negotiates the wild summit plateau for a few kilometres before reaching an ancient cairn (the remains of a burial mound dating from the Bronze Age 2,500 – 500 BC) that stands at 666 metres (2,182 ft) above sea level.

The imposing mountain flanks of Cuilcagh give this walk a very atmospheric feeling providing breathtaking views, the most impressive view is of Lough Atona, a lake nestled at the foot of the mountain which was carved out by the glacier during the last Ice Age approximately 13,000 years ago.

Please be aware that:

- It is important to choose a route that suits everybody in your group. You are strongly recommended to walk Cuilcagh Mountain with OSNI or OSNI Discover Series map 1:50,000 Sheet 26.
- Weather conditions on Cuilcagh Mountain can be quick to change & inhospitable all year round making way finding difficult in poor visibility at any time of the year.
- Equip yourself for walking in a mountainous area, waterproof clothing, boots, spare clothing, map, compass, first aid, food, drink etc.
- Carry a map and stay to the way marked trail. Be aware that mobile reception in the area is poor. Let someone know where you have gone and when you are expected back.
- In an Emergency: call 999 or 101 and ask for Mountain Rescue.
- This walking route traverses through a working farm with livestock.

Events:

For safety, conservation and insurance reasons walk leaders and event organisers are not permitted to organise, advertise or run any event of any nature in or along any section of the Cuilcagh Way where the number of participants could exceed 20 participants without prior written consent from the Marble Arch Caves Global Geopark. Relevant application forms are available from the Geopark and should be submitted well in advance of the planned walk or event. Permission, if granted may be subject to conditions and may not be granted on all occasions.

ENNISKILLEN WALKING TOUR WEB APP

Website: www.ekn.guide

Walk Enniskillen is a new way to discover the gems and facets of the history of Fermanagh's county town. There are 30 stops along the way which are marked by a distinctive ekn.guide plaque; each stop with a story to tell whether it is a church, a pub or a convent! The tour involves almost 3 miles (4.9km) of walking, and can be enjoyed as you see fit, from a blistering pace of 90 minutes, through to a leisurely stroll across the entire day.

The app will provide background information, context, maps and multimedia to enrich your walk. Most people choose to start the tour at Enniskillen Castle, but if you are in the town, the app will detect your location, and make recommendations for start points nearby. Fermanagh County Museum's Medieval Maguires display remains open for visitors on the ground floor of the Castle Keep, as well as on-going education programmes and outreach services.

Enniskillen Castle, situated beside the River Erne was built almost 600 years ago by the Gaelic Maguires. It is estimated Hugh Maguire built the castle sometime during the 1420s. Guarding one of the few passes into Ulster, it was strategically important throughout its history. In the 17th century the castle became an English garrison fort and then a military barracks.

COLES MONUMENT AND FORTHILL PARK

028 6632 5000

Forthill Park, Enniskillen, BT74 6NJ

Coles Monument is located in Forthill Public Park which is a pleasantly wooded town park with walks, shrub gardens and children's play area. Coles Monument was built in memory of Sir Galbraith Lowry Cole (1722 – 1842). The statue of Sir Galbraith Lowry Cole who was the second son of the first Earl of Enniskillen and a General in the Peninsula Wars (1808-1814) stands on top of a Doric Column. The monument was started in 1845 and took 12 year to complete. A series of 108 spiral steps leads to panoramic views of Enniskillen and the surrounding areas.

The monument, built of Partland stone, consists of a fluted Doric Column on a plinth with an abacus on which the statue stands. The column is 96 feet high with the statue adding a further 10 feet. The base is almost 100 feet above Belmore Street and rests on the remains of the 1689 battery. The statue is probably by the Dublin sculptor Terence Farrell and depicts General Cole wearing his military cloak with his left hand resting on a cavalry sabre. He faces south-west so that, on a clear morning, as he maintains his lonely vigil overlooking the town, he can see his ancestral home, Florence Court. Children to be accompanied by adults. Please note vehicular access is not permitted into Forthill Park.

Website: www.doeni.gov.uk/niea

The country park boasts beautiful woodland and lough shore walks. There is also a butterfly garden and wildflower meadow. Castle Archdale was the main flying boat base from which they flew during WWII and this is highlighted in an exhibition within the centre entitled 'Castle Archdale at War'.

Castle Archdale at War Exhibition

An Extra 100 miles - explains the role played of Castle Archdale during the war and this display includes such items as old parts of aeroplanes, fuel tanks and old documents relating to the war. Castle Archdale was the main base from which they flew and this is highlighted in this exhibition.

Farm Equipment Through the Ages Exhibition

The Museum's collection of farm machinery and equipment presented by the farming community of Fermanagh includes e.g. ploughs, harrows, grubbers, threshing and winnowing machines - all the equipment needed for tillage in Fermanagh. Mowing machines, tedders, hay rakes, rick shifts and a 'tumbling paddy' – tell the story of haymaking long ago. These items are on display in the arches adjacent to the lower courtyard car park.

'Our Limestone Landscapes' Exhibition

An exhibition promoting the value of Our Limestone Landscapes. The exhibition was developed to promote the value of our visually stunning limestone landscapes. This rare habitat, formed over millennia, supports a unique mix of flora and fauna. The exhibition aims to raise awareness of the threats to this habitat and the need for conservation of its biodiversity. Discover this visually stunning landscape and its unique biodiversity.

CHURCH SERVICES

Times of services may change during the year or in the Summer months and it is always advisable to check times again prior to attending the service. It has not always been possible to obtain telephone numbers for each church service contact. However, clergy/priests in each town village are normally aware of service times for each religious denomination.

 Please note at the time of going to print we were unable to contact some of the churches ***
